SEVEN NAZIS CONVICTED OF WAR CRIMES

Germans Who Drafted Program of Exterminating 6,000,000 Jews Are Found Guilty

ONE IS EXONERATED

Nuernberg, Germany, April 12—(AP)—Seven high German diplomats and government officials were convicted today as willing accomplices in the Nazi extermination of 6,000,000 Jews.

They were the men who drafted the programs and signed the orders sending Jews from all over Europe to gas chambers and concentration camps, a U. S. war crimes court ruled.

In searing words the court convicted:

Wilhelm Keppeler, Hans Heinrich Lammers, Richard Walther Darré, Otto Dietrich, Hans Kehr, Gustav Steengracht von Mayland and SS Lt. Gen. Gottlob Berger.

Baron Ernst Weizsäcker and Ernst Woermann were found guilty of Jewish persecution last night, bringing to nine the number convicted of the 19 accused on this charge.

Of the 21 defendants in this last of all U. S. war crimes trials, 11 had been convicted on one charge or another by this afternoon. There is still another day to go before the long verdict is completed.

One defendant was cleared today of the only charge against him and was set free. He was Otto von Erdmannsdorff, 61, deputy chief of the foreign office political division.

He was little more than a chief clerk, the court said, in assisting him of Jewish persecution.

Ernst Wilhelm Bohle, English-born chief of the Nazi's foreign organization, was acquitted of crimes against Jews, but he still had two counts remaining against him.

The court's detailed judgment painted a graphic picture of how German officials in various positions lent their official aid to the systematic mass murder of Jews.

As chief of the former Reich chancellery and "one of the most important figures in the Reich government," the court said, Lammers "participated in drafting and co-signing many, if not most, of the anti-Jewish laws and regulations."

That made the aged one-eyed intimate of Hitler the high man, with convictions on three counts already against him and three more counts remaining.

Today was the second conviction for Mayland, once the bright young man of Hitler's foreign office, for Berger, chief of the SS main office, and for Keppeler, SS-Untersturmführer.

Weizsäcker, economic adviser to the foreign office and Woermann, head of the foreign political division, also are guilty on two counts.

Plans for Western Germany Rejected

Washington, April 12—(AP)—Plans for a new Western German republic soon may be tossed back into the laps of the Big Three foreign ministers. They whipped these plans into shape here only last week.

Disturbed American officials gave thought to this possibility today after leaders of the German Social Democratic party rejected the terms as outlined by Secretary of State Acheson.

British Foreign Secretary Bevin and Foreign Minister Schuman of France, "The Socialists are strong enough to block necessary approval by the German parliamentary council at Bonn. The council has been at work for months on a constitution for a federal state which would direct most domestic affairs of the 45,000,000 people in the western occupation zones."

A meeting is scheduled for later this week between a Bonn parliamentary delegation and the American, British and French military governors in Germany.

House Passes School Bus Bill But Revisions Are Planned

Harrisburg, April 12—(AP)—A house bill requiring highway traffic to stop while school buses load and unload pupils was held up today in the senate while lawmakers considered possible revisions.

Six Killed In Church Blast

Workmen pull apart the wreckage of St. Mary's Catholic church in Marion, S. D., in which six persons died and more than 40 were injured when a butane gas blast wrecked the brick structure. The explosion occurred just before a Palm Sunday Mass, apparently caused by an accumulation of gas from a basement furnace leak.

Nation Opens Pocketbook To Reward San Marino Heroes

San Marino, Calif., April 12—(AP)—America is opening her pocketbook today to reward the heroes who lost their race with death in their attempt to rescue little Kathy Fiscus.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce reports that money is coming in from all parts of the country for the 50 to 60 men who toiled under most hazardous conditions long beyond the normal exhaustion point.

The chamber has formed an over-all committee to consolidate the collections. The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars are sponsoring fund drives.

President Earle V. Grover of the chamber said one of the committee's first jobs is to consider recommending the engineers and sandhogs for Carnegie Hero Medals.

He explained the purpose of the fund is not to pay the men for the long, hazardous hours they donated, but rather to give them financial recognition. The fund address is: The Rescue Fund Committee, c/o Postmaster, Los Angeles.

Meantime, H. E. (Whitely) Blickensderfer, "foreman" of the rescue effort, expressed the feelings of his gangs when he said: "I'm no hero. It was just a matter of simple humanity."

Dr. Paul Hanson, family physician, said 3½-year-old Kathy might have lived through the 53 hours of rescue work if her knees had not been jammed against her chest.

Dr. Hanson said the jack-knifed position in the 14-inch casing prevented her from breathing except with great difficulty. A preliminary autopsy report blamed suffocation for her death.

Dr. Hanson and Dr. Robert J. McCulloch said the child probably died painlessly and likely within an hour and a half after she fell 30 feet into the abandoned well at 4:50 Friday afternoon. They said she was conscious when a rope was dropped to her but she couldn't hold onto it and somehow fell another four feet. Dr. Hanson said he believed it was at that point she died.

Admits Serving Flesh Of Murdered Boy To His Family

Bremen, Germany, April 12—(AP)—A German ship's steward calmly related in court today that he wantonly killed two young boys and he served some of the flesh of one of them to his unsuspecting family.

"I just had the urge to kill someone," Bodo Fries, 39, testified, his face impassive.

Fries is charged with murdering the two boys in 1945 and 1947. He is not charged with cannibalism as there is no such offense in German law.

The parents of both slain boys, Ernst Sprenger, 12, and Wolfgang Windrat, nine, were in court to hear Fries tell of the crimes.

Spectators crammed the court and hundreds waited outside for the verdict, which was expected today.

Spectators gasped when Fries testified that at one time he was a cook for an American army unit in Bremen.

House Lines Up New Recovery Program After Battle Over How Much It Should Cost

IS GIVEN SENATE OKAY

Washington, April 12—(AP)—The house lined up the new European recovery program for swift passage today after a battle over how much it should cost.

Approval looked like a cinch after the way a team of Democrats and Republicans methodically smashed all but one attempt to change the program yesterday.

Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) predicted the same lineup would mow down efforts to trim the total, holding it "as is" at $5,380,000, plus a $272,000,000 guarantee to private investors.

And the assistant Democratic floor leader, Rep. Friess (D-Tenn.), saw "no more than 50" votes stacked up against the 15-month second installment on the Marshall plan.

The senate approved a $5,380,000,000 European recovery bill by a 70 to 7 vote last Friday, after 13 days of wrangling debate. It differs slightly from the measure now shaping up in the house. These differences must be ironed out by a joint senate-house committee before final passage of the program.

Rayburn and Friess gave their forecasts to a reporter after arranging for the house to meet an hour earlier than usual for the showdown.

Rayburn said it might all be over in "a couple of hours or so." He said he expected plenty of attempts to slice the bill but "not much trouble" battling them back.

Priest, in charge of rounding up ballots for crucial tests, said he was so sure of the outcome that he wasn't bothering with an official count.

"We are in no danger of any cuts as it appears now," he said. Yet some members who want to keep on helping Europe think the aid should be on a reduced scale.

In that class were men like Rep. Lawrence Smith (R-Wis) and Rep. Preston (D-Ga.), who offered economy amendments.

Foes of the entire program made no claims they could block passage. But they said they did have "a chance" of putting across a cut.

The house bill would authorize the Economic Cooperation Administration to spend $1,100,000,000 between now and June 30 and $4,280,000,000 in the following year.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation would be allowed to put up $1,000,000,000 until congress provides the actual cash in a separate appropriation bill.

Parley Planned In Newspaper Strike

Washington, April 12—(AP)—The government stepped into a strike of pressmen and stereotypes on Washington's four daily newspapers today, setting up a peace conference.

The meeting was scheduled for this afternoon, the Washington Publishers Association, representing the newspapers, and the unions agreed to sit down together. The men demand more pay and shorter hours than the publishers have been willing to concede, plus other changes.

Associate Director Howard T. Colvin of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service arranged the parley. He and Director Cyrus S. Ching will stand by to assist the two trouble shooters they have assigned to the wage and contract dispute.

The commissioners are Clyde Mills, a one-time printer and organizer for the AFL Typographical Union, and James Holden.

The strike, which started shortly before 8 a. m., halted publication of The Morning Post and Times-Herald and the Evening Star, News and Times-Herald.

ALCOHOLISM CALLED BASIS FOR RETIRING

New York, April 12—(AP)—A giant New York utility company is recognizing alcoholism as a basis for retirement of some long-time employees on disability pension.

The Consolidated Edison Company said it had pursued this policy since Jan. 1, 1947 and has retired from ten to 15 employees each year for alcoholism.

Dr. John J. Wittmer, an assistant, vice-president in charge of industrial relations and the medical program supervisor, explained the company policy this way yesterday:

"We consider that chronic, irremediable alcoholism is a disabling condition because we feel that the basis for alcoholism is due to a definite pathological condition."

Contract Signed For Water Distribution Plan for North Warren and Venturetown

Although it was quite generally known that the North Warren Municipal Authority had received an acceptable bid for the installation of a water distribution system for North Warren and Venturetown, it was only today that it was officially announced that a contract had been signed with the Keystone Construction Company of Meadville to make this installation.

The signing of this contract is the climax of a project which had its beginning about four years ago when a committee of the North Warren Civic Club investigated the possibility of installing a water system for domestic and commercial use as well as for fire protection in North Warren and Venturetown.

Following a report from this committee it was decided to petition the township supervisors to create an Authority and go forward with this project.

On March 16, 1946 they secured a charter from the Commonwealth creating a Municipal Authority. It was then a work in which the various civic groups, including the Civic Club, the Community House, Inc., the Volunteer Fire Department, the Municipal Authority and a Venturetown Citizens Committee, co-operated to assemble the numerous details together to bring the project to the point where bids could be asked for it.

Through the co-operation of these civic groups 324, or nearly 100%, of the families in North Warren and Venturetown signified their intentions to use the system by signing water contracts.

The Chester Engineers of Pittsburgh, an engineering firm specializing in water and sewage systems, designed the plans for this system which will include about four miles of eight, six, four and two inch water mains extending from the lower end of Venturetown to Blomquist's Furniture Store on State street and as far west on Jackson Run Road to Hamilton's greenhouse.

On these mains will be placed twenty-six fire hydrants sufficient to completely cover the entire area of North Warren and Venturetown. The distribution system will receive its supply from the Warren Water Company through an eight inch main which will cross the Conewango Creek at a point just north of the Jackson Run road where it will join the distribution system.

The citizens of the neighboring villages have long realized the need of a water supply for domestic use and for fire protection and feel that this is a very important step in the development of their towns.

Work on this project will begin in a very few days and will be completed in the late summer or early fall of this year.

The program already approved by conferences of the education committees of the senate and house was in sharp contrast to that urged by the Pennsylvania State Education Association on teachers' pay.

It would make the starting pay for standard certified teachers from $1,950 to $2,000 a year against the present $1,950 starting salary of teachers with standard teaching certificates. In addition, it called for $200 to $600 increases for experienced teachers in addition to the regular earned increments of $150 automatically provided by law. The cost of this plan has been estimated at nearly $27,500,000.

The bill reported by the house education committee for a vote would make the starting pay for standard certified teachers from $1,950 to $2,000 a year and would require seven consecutive increases of $200 each, instead of the present five.

Teachers with a college degree would continue to start at $2,000 and receive nine annual increases of $200 to a maximum of $3,800, while those with master's degrees would start at $2,200 a year and go to a maximum of $4,000.

Up for a vote for the key retirement measure—to set up a system whereby the contributions of teachers, school districts and the state will be increased to allow school employees to retire on half pay after 35 years of service, starting July 1, 1950.

Advisedly approved by the house were senate measures to guarantee teachers already retired and those who will retire before the new system is effective at least $1,200 a year in pensions.

The Republican drive for adjournment this month also brought these other results:

Final enactment by the senate of the administration program to free the states to last of a $10,000,000 bridge through use of a $10,000,000.

Philadelphians' first drive-in bank opened for business today.

James A. Bell, president of the Northwestern National Bank, said the drive-in idea was adopted by the North Philadelphia banking institution as an answer to the parking problem confronting motorists.

The drive-in bank is a new structure behind the main northwestern building. Capable of handling two cars at a time, it has double windows at each deposit point.

Osborn Dies Two Days After Wedding Adopted Daughter

Poulan, Ga., April 12—(AP)—Chase S. Osborn, who rose from a log cabin to Michigan's executive mansion and great wealth, died yesterday.

The tough, 89-year-old political reformer, author and adventurer finally lost his stubborn, five-year battle for health. Death came at his picturesque Possum Poke home in Possum Lane, near Poulan, in southwest Georgia.

At his side was his bride of two days, 55-year-old Stellanora Osborn, Mrs. Osborn had been his constant companion for 23 years, first as his secretary, as his adopted daughter for 18 years, and finally as his wife. The adoption was voided shortly before their marriage Saturday.

Death was attributed to the after-effects of pneumonia. It was the last of a series of illnesses which plagued the crusty old former governor since 1944.

He died at 5:25 p. m. about two hours after taking a sudden turn for the worse and lapsing into unconsciousness.

His physician, J. J. Crumley, said Osborn was near death Sunday, but a few hours later reported his patient had made another of his remarkable rallies. He was reported improving until his final relapse.

Osborn made two fortunes—in timber and iron ore—but in his later years he contributed most of his wealth to schools, charities and friends.

He was governor of Michigan in 1911-13. His administration emphasized reform in legislation and taxation. He authored one of the first workmen's compensation laws in the nation and pulled the state out of a deep debt.

PACT CALLED STEP TOWARD WORLD PEACE

Long Debate Predicted Although Ratification Is Expected Eventually

DEALS WITH REALITIES

Washington, April 12—(AP)—President Truman sent the North Atlantic Defense Treaty to the senate today with a request for its approval as "one step on the road to peace."

In a message, Mr. Truman said the treaty deals with the "realities of the situation we face today." He also said it is set up "within the terms of the United Nations charter and the constitution of the United States."

"This treaty is only one step—although a long one—on the road to peace," the president declared.

The treaty was signed here by 12 nations on Monday of last week. It pledges them to aid each other in event that one of them is attacked by an aggressor.

To become binding on the United States, the treaty must receive the senate's ratification. That means approval by a two-thirds vote.

Administration leaders are confident that the senate will eventually ratify it, but a long debate is expected once the treaty reaches the senate floor.

The first step at the capital will be for the senate foreign relations committee to hold hearings. The hearings will give opportunity for the backers and critics of the treaty—outside of congress—to express their views.

Throughout Mr. Truman's appeal for senate approval of the pact ran the theme that neither the United States nor any other nation can "achieve peace independently."

Mr. Truman said that this nation has determined to do everything possible to insure that peace is maintained in the knowledge that "we cannot escape the great responsibility that goes with our great stature in the world."

It was for this reason, he continued, that the American people accepted the United Nations charter in 1945 and have sought since to make it "a more effective instrument."

He cited, too, the European recovery program as a move "important to the prosperity and peace of our country and the world."

His message went on: "The North Atlantic Treaty is further evidence of our determination to work for a peaceful world. It is in accord with the action of the senate last June when it signified its approval of our country's associating itself in peace time with countries outside the western hemisphere in collective defense."

Kills Wife in Cafe Then Shoots Self

Altoona, April 12—(AP)—Dr. Daniel M. Replogle, Blair county coroner, said John Kirstner killed his wife in a cafe early today and then turned a pistol on himself, inflicting two serious wounds.

Kirstner is a patient in an Altoona Hospital with a .38 caliber bullet wound in his side and another in the lower part of his heart.

"I am not going to tell why I did it," Dr. Replogle quoted Kirstner as saying at the hospital. "You'll find directions for my funeral and my wife's funeral in my pocket."

Replogle said the shootings took place in the Paridore Cafe on 11th Ave. Witnesses said Kirstner drew the gun and started shooting. His wife was hit in the side and neck. She was dead when a doctor reached her side.

Total Eclipse Of The Moon Due Tonight

A total eclipse of the moon is due tonight, beginning at 9:28 p. m.

For the beginning of the total eclipse you will have to be outside at 10:28 p. m. That is when the heavens will put on a free show for people in this part of the nation a rare event when the earth's shadow darkens the moon by cutting off the latter's reflected light from the sun.

The event will be visible in Warren provided clouds do not obscure the full moon. Only when there is a full moon can such a rare happening occur, and the moon is scheduled to reach its full stage at 11:05 p. m. today while it is enveloped in shadow.

According to astronomical tables the eclipse will develop into the umbra phase at 9:28 p. m., when a darker cone of shadow will be thrown upon the moon's face.

Total eclipse begins at 10:28 p. m., the middle of the eclipse will be at 11:11 p. m., and the total eclipse ends at 11:54 p. m. The moon will leave the umbra stage at 12:54 a. m. on April 13 and will leave the penumbra stage at 1:50 a. m.

Authorities say the complete cycle of eclipses occur every 18 years. This is known as the lunar cycle. During this period of 18 years there will be an average of 23 eclipses of the moon and 41 of the sun.

During 1949 four eclipses are due, two of the sun and two of the moon. The first moon darkening is tonight and the second will come around the night of October 6-7.

The two scheduled partial eclipses of the sun, on April 23 and Oct. 21, will not be visible from the United States.

The moon eclipse tonight should be visible not only in Warren but in North America, South America, the eastern part of the Pacific ocean, the west part of the Indian ocean, southwestern Asia, Europe, Africa, the Atlantic ocean, and the Arctic and Antarctic.

Some clouds are predicted by the weatherman, however. The eclipse should perhaps have been staged a night earlier, for last evening the lighting was perfect.

Youth Project In Pleasant Twp. To Have a Hearing

Captain Myron Rapp and his degree team will confer the first and second degrees on a class of candidates at 8 p. m. Wednesday for Pleasant Grange, after which the organization will have a meeting and program open to the public at nine o'clock.

Anyone interested in what the Grange can do for the young people of the community is cordially invited to be present and hear Bob Moorhead, of the Times-Mirror staff, and Charles Musante present their views on the subject.

In addition to their talks, the group will be entertained by students from the Penny Beach dancing school in the following numbers: Songs, Susan Lawson; waltz, clog and military taps, Mary Anderson and Jackie Paris; acrobatic number, Martha Ann Edwards; Irish jig, Mary Morse. These pupils will all be accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Jean Mesler.

To conclude the evening, refreshments will be served by the ladies of the group. Mrs. Walter Nielsen and Mrs. Rex Confer, and all members attending are asked to bring a good supply of doughnuts, cookies or sandwiches.

Planting Project By Local Sportsmen

Fifty members of the Warren Field and Stream Club met Sunday morning in Irvinedale Park to receive seedlings for distribution and planting. The meeting spot was on the land area given to the club by Dr. L. E. Chapman.

A delicious pancake and sausage breakfast was served by Frank Reese and his famous "Fox Hole Inn" gang, after which Don Tait and Jay Fosse distributed approximately 60 seedlings to each member of the committee, which they in turn will plant to provide food and cover for game.

It is hoped by club members that this initial project will be the start of a long-range planting program. The project is only one of many such conservation activities in which the Warren Field and Stream Club is cooperating.

Struthers Wells Corp. Announces Quarterly Dividend

Many readers of the Times-Mirror will be interested in the following information disclosed in an article from the Wall Street Journal of April 9th:

Struthers Wells Corp. declared an initial quarterly dividend of 25 cents on the new common stock, the result of the two-for-one split-up just approved by stockholders. The dividend is payable May 16 to stock of record May 5. This is equivalent to 50 cents on the old stock, which had been receiving 40 cents quarterly. New shares to effect the split-up are expected to be ready for distribution about May 1. Stockholders also approved an increase in authorized common from 350,000 shares without par to 700,000 shares with a par value of $2.50. Upon completion of the exchange of the common shares there will be outstanding 226,158 shares of common stock and 109,145 shares of $1.25 cumulative preferred without par. Directors also declared three regular quarterly dividends of 3 1/4 cents on the preferred covering the balance of the fiscal year ending November 30, 1949. Preferred dividends are payable May 16, to stock of record May 5; August 15, to stock of record August 5, and November 15 to stock of record November 5.

SCHOOL VACATION
Students of Warren borough's public schools will have no classes Thursday, Friday and Monday in observance of the Easter week-end, work resuming as of Tuesday morning.

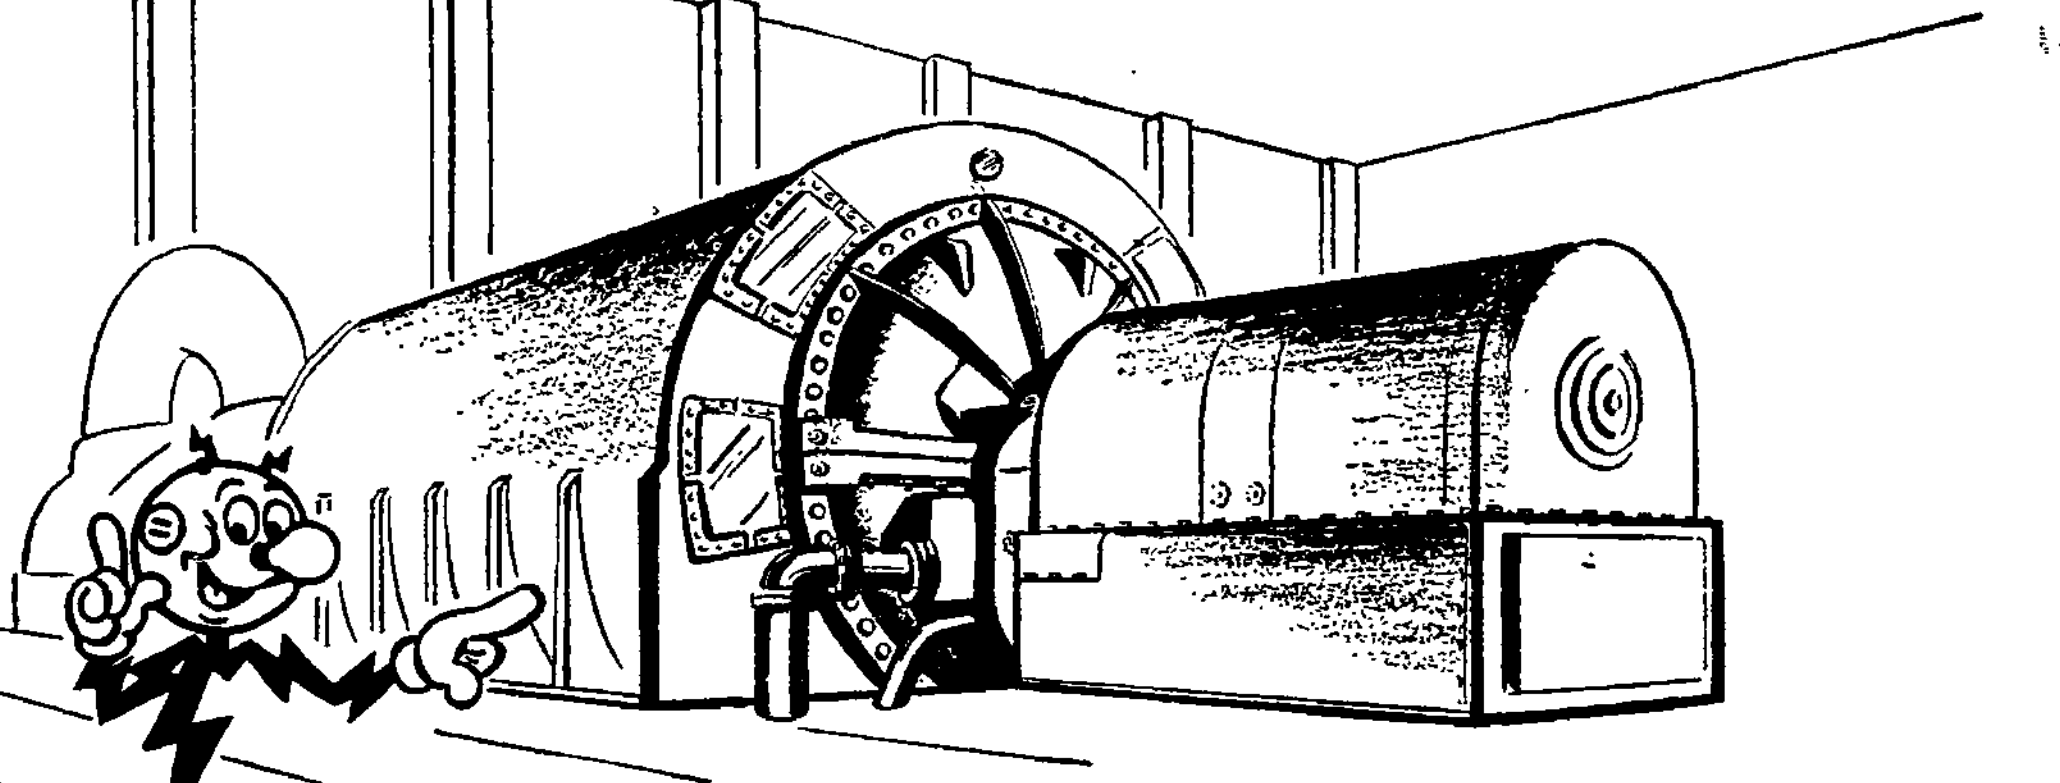

IMPORTANT POSITION
William Leroy Blair of Warren, has been named chief engineer of the University of Rochester's radio broadcasting station, WRUR. He formerly was control room supervisor. Blair, a junior at the University, is the son of County Superintendent of Schools and Mrs. H. L. Blair, of 311 Water street.

WORK TO START
Work of construction of the steel spans of the new railroad bridge at the Pennsylvania avenue west, crossing is expected to start next week and to take most of the summer. The new spans will be built on the south shore of the river and lifted into place as the old spans are moved out in order not to interfere with rail traffic.

STATE POLICE SAY
Along our streets and highways are numerous signs, indicating curves, hills, schools, speed limits, etc., erected for the protection of motorists. On many occasions it can be noted that these signs have been damaged or defaced. Tampering with these signs in any way is punishable by fine and costs and in default imprisonment up to 90 days, but more serious could be a bad accident because the signs were illegible due to damage or defacement.

SALES GRADUATE
Leon F. Anderson, 15 Pickering street, Sheffield, recently received his diploma following completion of "Creative Salesmanship" from the International Correspondence Schools. This is the second I. C. S. course Mr. Anderson has completed through the G. I. Bill. The first being "Advertising" and he has made arrangements for a third course through L. E. Johnson, I. C. S. representative for commercial drawing. Mr. Anderson is employed as a sales representative for Newell Press, Warren and through his specialized training should be very well qualified to serve his customers.

GRASS FIRE
The fire department was kept on the jump yesterday afternoon when calls for three grass fires came in. The first call rang in at 2:45 o'clock from Union and Fourth where a booster line and Indian tank were used. Equipment returned at 3:05 p. m. The last two calls came in at 5:30 p. m. and 5:40 p. m. respectively. The Second 35,000 kilowatt generator now in operation at Warren, Pa.

Just three years ago, the ground was broken for the Warren Station of Penelec. Today it's two 35,000 kilowatt generators are producing enough electric energy to light 100,000 75-watt bulbs—enough to meet the requirements of a community of 130,000 people.

This modern steam generating station was dedicated in September 1948 "to the Service of the People". At that time the first unit was placed in operation. Now, with two great generators at work, Warren Station will assure a dependable supply of low-cost electric power to the 300,000 customers served by Penelec in Western and Southcentral Pennsylvania.

FOUR YEARS IN THE WHITE HOUSE

President Truman starts his fifth year as chief executive confident that another two years will see world peace assured.

Today is the fourth anniversary of Mr. Truman's succession to the presidency on the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

During those four years, Mr. Truman has travelled over 124,438 miles, more than 65,000 of them by air.

He did his greatest traveling last year—45,826 miles, 32,574 by railroad. This included his 31,500 miles of campaign travel.

It was four years ago today that he sat in the office of his old friend, Speaker Sam Rayburn, on a leisurely, story-telling afternoon.

He got a call from Stephen Early, a Roosevelt secretary, (named a few days ago by Mr. Truman as under-secretary of defense)—to hurry up to the White House.

Upon his arrival there, he was informed of Mr. Roosevelt's death in Georgia. That evening he was sworn in as president.

Almost everyone he saw he asked to "pray for me," and he told reporters that the great assignment was like having "the moon and all the stars" fall on him.

Today the president believes that the next four years will be easier, and the nation joins in hoping that his prediction will be realized.

TRAFFIC SAFETY HONOR ROLL

For going through the entire year of 1948 without a single traffic fatality, 401 cities with populations between 5,000 and 10,000 have won places on the honor roll of the National Traffic Safety Contest. Two cities in this area, Corry and St. Marys, are listed in this group.

The National Safety Council, which conducts the contest, announced that this marks an increase of 98 from the number on the 1947 honor roll.

Colorado had the highest percentage of honor roll winners with eight out of 10 reporting cities. Iowa had the next best record with 19 out of 24.

Hobart, Okla., which state records shows has never had a traffic death since its incorporation in 1901, maintained its perfect record in 1948. The Council does not know of any other city in the population group which equals this record.

GOOD BILL PASSED

OU City Derrick

One measure reported by the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women as having passed finally is the Senator L. E. Chapman bill which permits the department of welfare to provide out-patient services for released mental hospital patients and set up psychiatric clinical services.

This is a measure which deserves the commendation of the medical fraternity. There has not been enough supervision of released mental hospital patients, nor has there been psychiatric clinical services for their benefit.

Senator Chapman has always been in favor of bills which benefit the mentally ill.

HE SET HIS FACE TO GO TO JERUSALEM

"And it came to pass, when the time was come that he should be received up, he steadfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem." Luke 9:51.

I admire the courage of this Christ of mine. He looked toward Jerusalem and saw not the acclaim of thousands of people on Palm Sunday, but the Jerusalem which was noted for the slaying of the prophets. The time had come in the life of Christ to go to Jerusalem and to be received, not by the priests in the way that He should be received but to be received that He might die for the sins of mankind. I am impressed with the divinity of the Christ but I am also impressed with the humanity of the Christ. It was no easy task to set His face to go to Jerusalem when He knew the path which lay ahead. But the task for which He had come to earth must be completed and he was willing to go all the way.

Men who can face life as it comes are to be greatly admired. Some men have that philosophy which will take life as it comes with its joys and its sorrows and never bow down beneath the load of those sorrows. They have learned to look beyond the immediate present into the future which holds more joys for them. Christ not only looked at the Cross on Calvary, but He looked to the open grave of Easter. Men need the Cross for their salvation, but they need the open grave of Easter morn to stir their hearts, and to give them an eternal hope. Look to this Christ, who truly set His face to go to Jerusalem, that He might

Here And There

Back in April, 1892, which makes it 57 years ago, the town of Warren experienced its first strike of trolley car workers. Here's an item from the Evening Mirror of April 14, that year, which shows that all was not going so smoothly with the street railway company: "About one o'clock this afternoon work on the Electric street railway was brought to a sudden standstill on account of a gang of laborers going on a strike. The gang assembled in front of C. P. Northrop's shoe store, and the circumstance aroused the curiosity of citizens who wondered what the unusual gathering of men meant. They were not long in ascertaining. When Mr. Northrop appeared on the scene he asked the men: 'What's the matter?' To the question they replied: 'We don't like the boss or our wages.' Mr. Northrop replied: 'All right boys, you quit.' The strikers were informed that if they came around later they could secure their pay. This constitutes our first experience in the street railway business. There probably will not be much time lost as it is not difficult to get men at this time of the year. Ten of the men who have been working on the road resumed their places while the other 15 have been paid off and are anxious to return. The leader of the strike was James Larsen, of Glade. No doubt the men are sorry for their rash move as they were getting $1.50 a day which is a very fair wage. They say they had nothing to complain of. They simply followed their leader in a blind sort of a way."

Potpourri: About fifteen members of the finance committee of the Fourth of July Celebration Committee, under the co-chairmanship of Harry Schmidt and Ray Stein, held a busy and important meeting in the Stein store last evening during which it was learned that the group has already started the solicitation for funds for the four-day frolic that Warren will enjoy beginning July first through the Fourth. . . . New Foreign Arms Aid Chief Belongs to the Scientific Age

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Lloyd V. Berkner should probably be called "Mr. Twentieth Century." He is the fantastic guy who has been named by Secretary of State Dean Acheson to direct the new foreign military assistance program under the North Atlantic Pact. Berkner is only 43 years old. But the places he's been, the things he's done and what he knows make a good catalogue of how you ought to bring up your boy if you want him to amount to anything in this dizzy scientific age of electronics, aviation, atoms, ions and such. Last year Mr. Berkner headed a special committee for Defense Secretary James V. Forrestal. Its task was to make a special evaluation of the relative importance of planes, carriers, rockets, bazookas, boobytraps and all other weapons of modern war. It was part of the big Army-Navy-Air Force unification fight. Berkner had done such an outstanding job on that committee and as executive secretary of the armed forces' Joint Research and Development Board that he was a natural for the new international job.

His life story reads a little like a combination of Aliey Oop and the time machine, with Major Hoople and Captain Easy thrown in. He ought to be in pictures, if not the hero of an adventure story. He has done everything that every modern boy would like to do. He was born in Milwaukee, but he grew up in Sleepy Eye, Minn. There wasn't much to do in Sleepy Eye, so he started monkeying with amateur radio. He went to the RCA Institute in New York and became a licensed radio operator. He went to sea as a radio operator in South American waters.

He entered University of Minnesota in 1923 and got a Bachelor of Science degree in electrical engineering. He got into the Reserve Officers Training Corps and ended up as a student lieutenant-colonel in command of the engineer battalion in the university regiment. Also in his spare time he went to the Great Lakes Naval Training Station and became an ensign reserve pilot. He went on to acquire a transport pilot's certificate, which he still holds.

In 1928 he helped Amelia Earhart prepare for her first trans-Atlantic flight and he joined Admiral Byrd's Antarctic expedition as a representative of the National Bureau of Standards.

On the way back to Panama, where he joined a Navy torpedo squadron, he took time out for brief expeditions in Fiji and New Zealand. But in June 1930 he was back at Bureau of Standards, writing technical papers and making studies of the outer atmosphere.

Three years later he joined the Carnegie Institution in Washington as a physicist and chairman of the section on upper atmosphere physics. But he didn't think he knew enough, so for two years he did graduate work in physics at George Washington U. On the side he was the commander of a naval reserve aviation squadron in Washington. Of course his squadron won the prize for top efficiency.

FROM 1936 to 1940 he was in Scotland, England, Germany, Australia and New Zealand—studying, lecturing, and establishing research centers. In 1941 he was sent to Fairbanks, Alaska, to organize an arctic observatory for the Carnegie Institution. What he did was to organize study of upper atmosphere ionization on a global basis.

Then the war caught him and called him into active service as a lieutenant-commander in the naval reserve. His first major assignment was to organize the radar section of Bureau of Naval Aeronautics. Then he organized BUAE's electronics branch, assuming responsibility for design of naval airborne electronics equipment.

Captain Berkner belongs to a score of technical societies with long names and he holds a dozen service and scientific medals. Otherwise he lives quietly with his wife, whom he married in 1928, and their two daughters. But being only 43 and still full of beans, there's no telling where he'll end up.

He says: "I wish to thank you all for the birthday card that expressed 'best regards and best wishes.' It's the same old gang. Hope to see you some time. Coming along fine after my experience in the hospital. Last week we had winter. This week it is summer."

Don't forget the eclipse of the moon this evening starting at 10:38 and continuing through until 11:54. . . . Final plans for the 'Stu Edwards and His Champs' community party at Kane were made last evening with a special meeting at the YMCA. The party for the Wolves basketball team and officers is scheduled for April 20 in the high school gymnasium there. . . . The Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce this year will not make its usual statewide Summer Time survey. The chamber has announced that the plan was dropped since only two of the 400 population centers in the state last year remained on Standard Time. . . . Disposition of Italy's African colonies may see the birth of a new kingdom in the Mediterranean country of Cyrenaica under the Emir Sayid Mohammed Idris El Senussi, the princely personage who is regarded as both religious and temporal ruler by his people. The question of the colonies is now before the political committee of the United Nations general assembly. The United States has proposed that Cyrenaica, which is the eastern portion of Libya, be placed under British trusteeship. British Minister of State Hector McNeill has stated that "if this should prove to be the will of the assembly my government will faithfully and solemnly attempt to discharge such a mandate and would find such a proposal a happy one."

Britain has two reasons for liking this solution. One is that during the war she promised the Senussi (a Moslem religious sect of Arabs) that never again would they be returned to Italian rule. The other, and perhaps more significant, is that Cyrenaica is a powerful military base, dominating the main shipping route through the Mediterranean. America is mightily interested in that fact, too.

Back in December of '43, while Montgomery was in process of driving Rommel eastward across the desert, I visited Libya and later had a long talk in Cairo with the Emir Sayid, who is better known as the grand Senussi. He told me he expected his people to receive their freedom, and while we didn't discuss his personal ambitions I have no doubt that he hoped to take his place as ruler. Certainly some prominent Senussi whom I met were working to that end.

I asked the Grand Senussi what he thought of dictator Mussolini's assumption of the title of "Protector of Islam" in connection with Il Duce's great colonization scheme in Cyrenaica. The Emir laughed and replied: "It's the sort of thing which would only be done by a stupid person like Mussolini. No one could be protector of Islam unless he embraced the faith and was elevated to the position of protector by his followers. Every Moslem knows that, and so Il Duce's title is as empty as his head."

Now the Senussi are looking for their own government. I am told by a reliable source that if Britain is given the trusteeship, she likely will recognize the Grand Senussi as head of state and help him form a government which would work with British guidance.

Variety Show Planned At Youngsville

Youngsville, April 12—Broken-traw Grange, with the help of several organizations and individuals from Warren, is going all-out with plans for a very fine Variety show to be presented in the high school auditorium here at 8 p. m. Thursday, April 28.

Feature of the evening will be the Warren Boy Choir, composed of 36 boys of about 12 years of age. Byron Swanson, former musical director in Youngsville schools and now associated with the Warren Conservatory of Music, is the director of the group.

Other highlights of the Variety Show will be dance numbers by Marilyn Dobbs, acrobatic specialist; selections by the Every Knights Barbershop Quartet of Warren; a carnival of magic by Chuck Tranker, who has previously pleased several local audiences with his entertainment.

SYRUP PRICES DROP

Buyers of maple syrup in bulk quantities in the Corry area have slashed the price of fancy grade syrup to 25 cents a pound. On the basis of 11 pounds to the gallon, they will pay approximately $2.75 for fancy syrup in the bulk which retails for $4 to $4.50. Prices of other grades of the syrup are approximately the same as last year, producers report.

Hal Boyle's Comment

By HAL BOYLE
New York—(P)—Ya-a-a-ww-w-w-w-nnn!

I guess spring is really here. Spring fever is anyway. And the season of gentle melancholy and pleasant foolishness is upon us.

It is a time of dreamy peace for the common man, as his mind and body prepare for the chemistry of summer. But it is also a time of great wars. Ambitious leaders through all history have picked this season to unleash the armies they have built up through the winter. The ground has firmed for martial foot.

But this year looks like another of the years the world treasures—a year of peace. The bugle hangs on the wall, brightly polished but unblown. No mighty armies are massed for attack. . . . That we know of.

Spring comes to the city in small surprises. Down where I live you can tell it best by the sudden increase of perambulators. The poor man on the lower east side may never hope to own a motor car. But he will go without a suit to see that his new baby rides in the finest buggy in the neighborhood. A day arrives when the air wears a chill in the shade and a sudden softness in the sun. And the sidewalks bloom with thousands of baby buggies, alive with posterity and the voices of tomorrow.

Across the East River a few buds burst open on the tree that grows in Brooklyn. And here in Manhattan you'd think the cold skyscrapers themselves would erupt in greenery—thrust out limbs and leaves to catch the warmth. And perhaps some day they will, and turn this stony wilderness into a green garden of the spirit.

You can live here all your life and never see a robin or a bluebird, the heralds of spring elsewhere. But the pigeons aren't a bad substitute. The pavement is alive with their courtships—love underfoot—and their cooing can be heard half a block.

Up in Central Park they begin to put out the boats for the sailors. People often have wondered why sailors fresh from the sea go there to row boats around the lake. There is no mystery about it. They go there because, as one sailor told me, "it's a wonderful place to meet a girl."

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington—(P)—Excuse me if I don't dance in the streets every time there's news of a great event. A little man who lives in the back of my head always taps me on the skull and says:

"Whoa, Jack, let's wait before you cheer."

I remember how it was in San Francisco in 1945. The flags flying and the diplomats smiling and shaking hands like brothers while they hammered verbs and nouns and commas together in the United Nations charter.

It was spring, a wonderful time, everybody happy, and all the prophets saying the U. N. would keep peace.

And then I saw the big powers slip into the charter the little sign marked "exit"—except they called it the veto.

I went off in a corner and sat down, sick with fear, because the little man got busy with his tapping in my skull, telling me:

"Any time one of the big ones wants to get ornery, he can chuck in the veto, and when that happens you can kiss the peace and the U. N. goodbye, my boy."

And sure enough, he called the shot. The Russians dragged in the veto, twisted its tail, and beat the diplomats over the head with it till the U. N. looked like a picnic ground at 5 p. m. on the Fourth of July, when the crowd was gone.

Last week the Atlantic Pact was signed, greatest living testimonial to the failure of U. N.

Fanfare, lights, movie cameras, television, speeches by the diplomats, tons of publicity, and plenty of talk of how this would stop Russia.

And later more hurrahs when the State Department said we and France and Britain had finally agreed on how a new German Republic should be set up in western Germany, no matter what kind of government the Russians set up in eastern Germany.

And both times, on the pact and the German business, the little man got out his hammer and beat my brains and said:

"Now take it easy before you throw your hat in the air because

The Atlantic Pact may be a fine and wonderful thing, and it may throw a block on Russia and save the western world, but first we have to see how it really works and whether congress votes enough money to help our allies get armed.

"Clean Country Air" Not Free From Bacteria

State College—People who leave the city for the weekend, seeking a breath of clean, country air, really are escaping only the man-made pollution in the air.

Dr. Hans Neuberger, professor and chief of the division of meteorology at the Pennsylvania State College, points out that country air is not necessarily "clean."

The so-called "clean country air" contains carbon, neon, helium, ozone, carbon dioxide, radio-active emanations from the earth, and various nitrogen and sulfur compounds. There also may be variable amounts of water vapor and many solid and liquid substances.

Small meteors that bombard the earth disintegrate and the resulting dust amounts to about 1000 tons per day. In addition, there are pollen spores, viruses, bacteria, and other micro-organisms.

Dust storms and volcanic eruptions produce a tremendous amount of dust. Dr. Neuberger says. The eruption of Mt. Katmai in Alaska in 1912, for example, threw 24 billion cubic yards of dust into the air, dust that was still detectable in Europe as late as 1914.

Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club Gets Acquainted

The first regular monthly meeting of the newly-organized Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club was held Friday at the YWCA activities building, with 29 members seated at a luncheon table lovely in springtime appointments.

A word of welcome was given by Mrs. James H. Beightol, president, in the form of a telegram received from the president of the Welcome Wagon Company of New York, in sincere congratulations for the forming of the new club and wishing it great success.

Mrs. Robert Hudson presented the program for the year and every member volunteered to be hostess and expressed preference as to the month.

Mrs. Donald Carmody told of the dance the Newcomers Club is to have with the Two-to-Four Club and asked that all interested call Mrs. Hudson or Mrs. Carmody.

LeRoy Schneck, of WNAE, was master of ceremonies for the afternoon program and, with the aid of a roving microphone, interviewed each member concerning her life before coming to Warren. The interview concluded with everyone having a better knowledge of other members, thanks to Mr. Schneck and his informal-type program.

Hostesses for the afternoon were officers of the club, Mrs. Beightol, Mrs. Hudson, Mrs. Carmody and Mrs. Peter Marco.

Stenographers Club Sets Date For Style Show

The Stenographers Club of Warren High School is busy with plans for its annual spring style show to be presented in the high school auditorium on Thursday evening, May 5, at 8:15 o'clock.

Proceeds will be used for the Stenographers Club Award, presented to an outstanding commercial student at commencement time. The club also purchases certificates for all the girls who pass shorthand speed tests during the year.

Stenographers' Club is composed of all second-year shorthand students. Monthly meetings are part of the activities of the club, in addition to the style show. Skills or discussions are usually given after the business meetings each month, in which some phase of secretarial work is the theme, as correct and incorrect ways to apply for a position, telephone etiquette, bad telephone manners and the proper office attitude.

Skating parties have been a part of the club's social calendar this year, and a spring dance and later a picnic are being planned.

Jean Robertson Is Again President Of Philomel Club

Miss Jean Robertson was re-elected president of the Philomel Club for another season at the annual business session which preceded the very fine annual exchange program presented by members of the Mozart Club of Jamestown.

Others named to office at this time were Mrs. W. E. Yeager, first vice president; Mrs. Charles Eaton, second vice president; Mrs. N. D. Paterson, treasurer; Mrs. Melvin Keller, succeeding Mrs. Harriett Wilkins as secretary; Mrs. Mayme Elkey, assistant secretary; Mrs. Martha Jackson, succeeding Mrs. T. H. Conway as Federation secretary; Mrs. L. E. Campbell, librarian; Mrs. Florence Aldrich, succeeding Mrs. Joseph DeFrees as program chairman; Mrs. Roy Krebs, succeeding the late Mrs. George Betts as hostess chairman; Mrs. Harold Hampson, succeeding Mrs. Melvin Thomas as publicity chairman; Mrs. Joseph DeFrees, artist chairman; Mrs. Maxine Hanson, Junior Philomel counselor; Mrs. W. M. Robertson, Mrs. Allie Russell, Mrs. Laurel Whitmore, Mrs. Alfred Stevens and Miss Ethel McCray, music auditing committee.

Announcement was made by Miss Robertson of the return visit to be paid the Jamestown club on Thursday, April 28, also of the final program of the season on May 4, when Madame Blauw, of Buffalo, a former pupil of Clara Schumann, will present an illustrated lecture-recital.

Palm Sunday In Methodist Church At Youngsville

Youngsville, April 12—Two special services were held for Palm Sunday in the Methodist church. At the morning worship, a baptismal service was held for both children and adults. A number of parents presented their children for baptism and several persons were received into the membership of the church through the pastor's training class, by confession of faith and by letter. Rev. E. W. Chitester brought a strong message on the theme, "The Witness of the Stones".

For the evening service, the choir, directed by Elton Barton, presented the beautiful cantata, "The First Easter" by Ira B. Wilson. The service opened with an organ prelude by Beethoven, played by Miss Edith Husted; followed by a processional song by the choir; a special responsive reading, and a piano and organ duet, "Alleluia", with Miss Husted at the organ and Mrs. Edith Carlson as pianist.

The cantata opened with Introduction and Chorus—Silent the Sleeping Town; Shall Heavy Rock—Rex Meleen, tenor soloist, and chorus; Break of Day—Barbara Knapp, soloist; As It Began to Dawn—Women's chorus; Our Lord Indeed Is Risen—Full chorus; All Hail—Rex Meleen and chorus; Lo, I Am With You Always—Alto duet by Mrs. Pearl Hendrickson and Mrs. Rose Aberg; Christ Is Risen—Chorus, with Evelyn Carr as soprano soloist.

At the close of the cantata, the benediction was pronounced and Miss Husted played "Old Hundred" for the prelude.

Gold and Fizzle

At 8:30 p. m. Thursday in the auditorium of the Woman's Club, the Junior Chamber of Commerce music committee will present as its final attraction on this season's schedule the widely heralded piano team of Gold and Fizzle. It is learned from other papers of the section that Warren is not the only community to have this pleasure this spring. The two are making an appearance in Franklin on Wednesday of this week and George Word, writing in the Bradford Era, has the following to say concerning their recital in that city:

Civic Music members last night heard an outstanding concert by Gold and Fizzle, duo-pianists, in the auditorium of the Bradford Senior High School. It was the concluding program on the regular schedule for the current year, and the duo played to a capacity audience.

Gold and Fizzle are both young men, very much alike in appearance, and very much alike in their artistic ability. One could not help but compare them throughout the entire concert. Certainly the concert world is fortunate in having them together as a team. Each one complements the other in technique and expression, and they work together as a precision machine. Their ability left absolutely nothing to be desired, and even though there was distracting noise from an unknown source several times during the program, they devoted themselves entirely to their work and gave no heed.

Opening the program with works by Bach, Mozart, and Brahms, they translated the quiet "Sicilienne" into a number of serene beauty; "Sonata in D Major" was played with adroit skill and "Variations on a Theme by Haydn" produced an interesting display of manual dexterity. The third part of the program was devoted to the works of modern composers, including Rieti, Copland, Milhaud and Tailleferre. The duo was generous with encores.

In the writer's mind, this was by far the outstanding concert presented by Civic Music Association this year, and the talent committee of that organization is to be congratulated on its fine choice of artists to close the current season.

Easter Benefit Plans Progressing

Jim Albaugh, general chairman for the Phalanx Club's Easter Dance, announces arrangements are all complete for the function to be held at the Woman's Club on Easter Monday night.

The dance, planned as a benefit for the Youth Canteen Fund, will be from nine until twelve o'clock, with Orrie Beebe's Orchestra providing the music.

Tickets for the party may be had from any member of the Phalanx Club, as well as at Cozy Corner, Texas Lunch, the B and B Smoke Shop and the YMCA.

Plans Progressing For Antique Show

Mrs. W. Treat Davidson, who is general chairman for the Antique Show to be held by the Woman's Club on April 28, 29 and 30, held a final meeting of her committee Monday.

She reports reservations for space have been made by 16 dealers from Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York state and the auditorium will be overflowing with many beautiful pieces of furniture, glass, china, silver and antique jewelry. The show will open at 10 a. m. each day and it has now been decided by the committee to remain open Thursday and Friday evenings until nine o'clock.

COLLEGE NEWS

Harry Conarro, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Conarro, 310 West Fifth avenue, has returned to his studies at The Hill School in Pottstown after spending his spring vacation at home.

IS VICE PRESIDENT

The Daily Collegian, student newspaper at Pennsylvania State College, headlines the current issue with announcement that the Lions, one of two political parties at the school, made a clean sweep of all nine offices over their rivals, State and John Erickson, of Warren, was one of those named in the elections. John, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Creed A. Erickson, 507 East street, is the new vice president of the junior class.

IN BAND CONCERT

Fenn State's 90-piece concert band, under the direction of James W. Dunlop, presented its annual concert at the college Sunday afternoon, with Dorothy E. Miller, of Sugar Grove, sophomore in the music education field, listed among the personnel. On May 6, the band will make its first off-campus appearance, with a concert in Mount Carmel.

Youngsville BPW Club Celebrates 18th Anniversary

Youngsville, April 12—At a very well attended meeting held Monday evening in the American Legion Home, the Youngsville Business and Professional Women's Club members celebrated the 18th anniversary of their organization.

The evening's entertainment opened with a delicious baked ham dinner served by women of the American Legion Auxiliary. Hostesses for the pleasant occasion was Mrs. Mildred Harner, with Miss Helen Piper, Mrs. Edith Getts and Mrs. Helen Unterreiner.

They were responsible for the attractively decorated tables arranged in a "U" formation. The coming Easter was suggested in rabbits, Easter eggs and baby chicks. Spring flowers, gray favors of bright candy eggs in small baskets and floral place cards also carried out the seasonal table decoration.

Words of grace by Mrs. Nellie Anderson and the giving of the club collect preceded the dinner.

The program followed the dinner, with guests still seated about the tables. Mrs. Frances Rhodes acted as toastmaster, and, after a few words of greeting, read letters of congratulations to the club on its 18th birthday from Helen Remler, from the Erie founder of the club and other friends. Words of welcome were given to the visiting guests from Warren, Corry, Union City and other clubs, by the Youngsville club president, Mrs. Dorothy Retterer, who introduced the visiting presidents and asked all visitors to rise for applause by the home club.

Mrs. Retterer was presented a past president's pin by Mrs. Mildred Harner. Mrs. Rhodes then asked all past presidents to form a line across the back of the room and each president was presented a corsage by members of the committee, and a tribute was sung by the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurel Whitmore greatly pleased with several violin and piano numbers.

A varied and good program of songs was then given by the Chord Cadets of Warren, one of the popular barbershop quartets.

All present were invited to attend the BPW District One meeting to be held in the Warren YWCA on April 23, when the state

57TH ANNIVERSARY OF CHRIS LAWSON'S

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Lawson, 14 South Irving street, are celebrating their 57th wedding anniversary on Wednesday, April 13, and will be honored guests for a family gathering marking the milestone. The Times-Mirror joins with many friends and relatives of the honored couple in extending congratulations and best wishes for many more happy anniversaries.

Cats, Cranium And Commuting Bother Players

Now that the blintzes problem of "You Can't Take It With You" has been solved by the many volunteers who called the Warren Players and offered to make the tasty dish, the production staff of this next Players presentation is coping with cats, cranium, and commuting problems.

Playwrights Kaufman and Hart wrote in some first-act business in "You Can't Take It With You" which requires two stationary kittens and a skull ash tray. Lalla Steber in the role of effervescent Penny Sycamore uses the two kittens as paper weights and the ash tray as a candy dish.

Interested persons owning such an ash tray or a cat expecting a week before the show dates of May 12th and 18th are asked to call Audrey Hill after 7 p. m.

Commuting from out of town are three members of the large cast. Bill Brewer, taking over the role of Kolenkov vacated by Louis Critelli, lives in Erie. Norma Haight comes from Youngsville to appear as Rhea. Bob Persche commutes from Sheffield to set type and play a xylophone in the role of Ted.

The average husband has about 18 neckties—most of them four-in-hands.

president will be the honored guest.

An invitation was also extended to the Union City Club's 25th birthday anniversary.

No Sign of Tragedy

A lone bulldozer stands idle in the center of the debris-strewn San Marino, Calif., field which a few hours before was the scene of heartbreak and hard work during the attempted rescue of Kathy Fiscus. As soon as the 3-year-old girl's body was taken away, Raymond Hill, who directed the rescue, ordered men and machines to fill in the well into which Kathy fell and eliminate traces of the tragedy. "When I leave," he said, "no one will know there has been any activity but plowing."

CLOSING MISSIONARY MEETING WEDNESDAY

The missionary convention, in progress at the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, 114 Pennsylvania avenue, east, will close Wednesday evening with a service beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Tonight, Rev. C. E. Travis will be showing colored pictures of French Indo-China. All interested are cordially invited to attend and see on-the-spot pictures taken in that strange land; closeups in color of the ins and outs of missionary life, ups and downs along the old Mandarin trail of Indo-China; how horrible superstitious practices of the lost, how the dead bury and burn the dead, how an evil power directs and holds their lives in abject fear from the cradle to the grave.

Rev. Travis has spent many years in Indo-China and, during the war, he and his wife and their five children were interned by the Japanese. He and his wife plan to go back to Indo-China as soon as the education of their children has been completed.

PROGRAM IS ENJOYED

Eighty Warren women enjoyed the April dessert-luncheon at the YWCA. Table decorations were in keeping with the Easter season and were arranged by Mrs. Ernest Hagenlocher. Dessert was served by Mrs. W. F. Bennett, Miss Edith Langdale, Mrs. Paul Braunschweiler, Mrs. Robert Trusler and Miss Jennie Smith.

Mrs. H. Burke Forbes presented in a most talented manner her book review of "The Big Fisherman" by Lloyd Douglas. The book was most appropriate for the Lenten season and all who heard her were inspired. Some people even were hearing the review for the fourth time.

The speaker was introduced by Miss Mary Church, executive director, who announced that the May dessert-luncheon will be held on the second Friday, May 10th, at 1:30 p. m.

MARCONI WINNERS

Seven tables were in play for a Howell movement game in last night's session of the Marconi Bridge Club. In first place were Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Scallise; second, D. L. Vetera and J. A. Scallise; third, Harold LaPoint and Mr. Sands.

STARBRICK UNIT HAS BUSY SESSION

The April meeting of the Starbrick PTA was opened by the president, Mrs. Calvin Euerkle, who read the PTA Prayer, after which all joined in singing, "Faith Of Our Fathers." During the business session, the following officers were elected for next year: president, Mrs. Kenneth Duncan; vice president, Mrs. Robert Smith; secretary, Mrs. Theron Esterbrook; treasurer, Mrs. Lewis Newark.

It was decided the unit will purchase a picture for the school, and will send the newly-elected officers to the Northwest District conference to be held in Erie in May. Mrs. Grace Firth and Mrs. Florence Conklin were appointed to audit the treasurer's books.

Announcement was made of the operetta, "Peter Rabbit," scheduled for presentation at the school on Monday and Tuesday of this week. The program gets under way at eight o'clock, with Mrs. June Anderson in charge.

The attendance award for the evening went to Mrs. Keller's room. The president announced the next executive meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Robert Smith and that the next PTA meeting will begin with a six o'clock tureen supper for members and their families.

For the program, the Gentlemen of Note, high school boys' barber-shop quartet, sang several selections which were greatly enjoyed. Miss Lillian Nicci, social worker at Warren State Hospital, gave a very interesting talk on "Your Children and Good Mental Health."

To conclude, delicious refreshments were served by the committee. Mrs. Ronald Rieder, Mrs. Albert Sidon and Mrs. Harold Sigworth.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

TWO WAITS TO BID THIS SLAM HAND

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Written for NEA Service
I received a letter from C. W. Serase, who is in Westminster Veterans Hospital, London, Ontario. He asked me if I consider girl friend of the boy who was playing North. Mr. Serase was standing behind her when this hand was dealt, and to everybody's amazement, her first bid was four no trump. He did not tell me whether North's response was actually a five club bid or a blackwood bid but in any event, the girl immediately went to suit club. He asked for any comments on the bidding.

It's tough to tell wounded veterans they were wrong in their bidding. I will say, however, that the girl friend showed great confidence in her boy friend when she bid six clubs. It was fortunate that she did not go to six diamonds, but that might easily have been the correct contract.

Now I am going to leave myself wide open by giving what I think would be the bidding of most experts on the hand. I think most of them with the South hand would open the bidding with one club. North then could bid either two clubs or one diamond, neither of which is a strength-showing bid.

Suppose that North bids a diamond. South could make a jump bid of two spades, and North would then bid three clubs. If they were using Blackwood, South then should bid four no trump, and North's response would be five clubs. Now South could put the hand into six clubs, and they would be in exactly the same spot as our hospital friends.

Foremen Tour Bottle Plant Shut Down By Break In Tank

Members of the Warren Foreman's Club toured the Pennsylvania Bottle plant at Sheffield last night, but they didn't get to see the industry in operation as was expected.

The plant has been shut down temporarily until repairs can be completed to the big molten glass tank "heart" of the industry.

A break occurred in the tank Friday afternoon, spilling tons and tons of molten glass into the basement of the plant. The Sheffield foremen were called to cool off the molten mass, and work is under way in chipping loose the thick layers of glass from the cement floor, and from around several units of plant equipment.

It will likely require an additional ten days to two weeks before production can be resumed at the plant.

Prior to the inspection tour, the Foreman's Club members enjoyed a delicious ham dinner at the Sheffield Methodist church. The dinner was prepared and served by members of the church's WSCS organization. Invocation was pronounced by the Rev. E. D. Hulse, pastor of the church.

During a brief business session, newly-elected officers of the club were installed by Dan Walton, General Secretary of the Warren YMCA. They were:

Harry Cooper of the Pennsylvania Electric Company, who succeeds W. O. Lawson as president; Merritt Rohlin of Sunray Electric, vice president; August Gantz of Paramount Furniture, secretary; and William Erickson of Struthers-Wells, treasurer.

FIRE IN PLEASANT
Warren Fire Department was called this afternoon to extinguish a grass fire which was burning close to the Box, summer home of T. H. Rockwells in Pleasant township.

ATTENDING CLINIC
Three members of the Blomquist store staff from North Warren are in Glasgow, Va., for four days this week as guests of the Lees Carpet Company. They are Ruth Manaval, Alice Nicholson and C. K. McGary. The group has its headquarters at Natural Bridge and makes daily visits to the Lees plant for the rug clinic that portrays in detail all the principles of rug building.

MAN LOSES EYE
George Kneidel, 49, of St. Marys, had his left eye removed at Montefiore Hospital, Pittsburgh, Saturday, the result of a fracas in a taproom. St. Marys police, who are making an investigation, learned from Kneidel that he was in a beer garden when James Vogt, 26, asked to borrow some money. When the request was refused, Vogt struck Kneidel in the eye with a metal object. Kneidel was first admitted to the hospital in St. Marys and later taken to Pittsburgh.

HOME FROM SOUTH
Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Haag, 108 Oak street, are home after a pleasant three-month vacation in Florida. They spent their time in Clearwater, Tampa and St. Petersburg, coming home by way of the East coast. Several days were spent in Daytona Beach and St. Augustine and they visited friends in Charlotte, N. C. They report an storm occurred in the Tampa Bay area in the three months they were there, but the fruit crop was severely damaged in that one. Fishing was very good, they report.

Co-Publisher Of Forest Paper Dies

Harry Lea Meyer, 53, co-publisher of the Forest Republican and the Marienville Express newspapers and a veteran of World War I, died suddenly Monday afternoon in his home in Tionesta. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Mr. Meyer had just returned to his residence from the newspaper plant, when he suffered the heart attack.

About a year ago, Mr. Meyer and Kepler Davis purchased the two Forest county newspapers. A son of Samuel H. Meyer and the late Nellie Lea Meyer, he was born May 12, 1895 in Sharpburg. While serving with the armed forces during World War I, the publisher was wounded in action.

Mr. Meyer was an active member of the Presbyterian church of Tionesta and also the Masonic order of the community.

His widow, Mrs. Bess Freeling Meyer, he is survived by his father and the following sisters: Mrs. Walter Shultz, Mrs. Hugo Boshert and Mrs. Russell Lloyd, all of New Kensington; and Mrs. Walton Culp of Saxenburg. The body has been removed to the Haslet funeral home in Tionesta. Funeral arrangements will be announced.

Pact Called Step Toward World Peace

arrangements, within the framework of the United Nations charter, designed to safeguard peace and security.

This reference was to the so-called Vandenberg resolution in which the senate went on record as favoring a regional security arrangement along the lines of the Atlantic Treaty.

That resolution was introduced by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) Without referring directly to the Soviet Union, the president said the people of the "North Atlantic Community" have seen "solemn agreements" broken, the rights of small nations destroyed and the people of small nations "deprived of freedom by terror and oppression."

At another point, the president said "the 12 nations which have signed this treaty, undertake to exercise their right of collective or individual self-defense" against armed attacks in accordance with Article 51 of the United Nations charter, and subject to such measures as the Security Council may take to maintain and restore international peace and security.

Less than an hour after his message officially reaches Capitol Hill, Mr. Truman was scheduled to arrive there for a buffet luncheon to which all of the senate and house leaders of both parties have been invited.

While the occasion was a social one—observing the fourth anniversary of Mr. Truman's move into the White House—some senators hoped to get the president's ear on legislative matters.

On Murder's Skirts

By Terry Adler

Chapter 26
"MONDAY morning?" Raff's face sagged with disappointment.

"Perhaps the mail hasn't been collected yet," Fenton said hopefully. "In that case it would be in the large wire basket on the main floor."

"Thanks, Dr. Fenton. I'll try to pick it up."

"Well?" Ellen asked as he bounded out. "You look pretty safe me."

Raff remained silent and started the car immediately.

"Well, for Pete's sake, aren't you going to tell me about Fenton?"

"Same old story. He was looking for a letter that Hubbard had been holding over his head." Briefly he told her the story.

When he finished she said, "My God! He was a vile man. You know, if it weren't for Dr. Bray I'd say let his murderer be. He did a much needed service."

"We can't do that, Ellen. There was Bray. And there was almost you." He looked at her soberly. "And there were my others. Don't you see, we've got to find him."

"Guess you're right Dennis, but I wish—hey, why are we going back to the campus?"

"Fenton said he had turned up an envelope with his name on it written in Bray's handwriting."

"Oh," she said excitedly, "do you suppose the whole thing's solved and just waiting in the envelope?"

He parked the car.

"I sure intend to find out. Come on."

"Where'd he say the envelope was?"

"In the intra-mural mail."

"Oh, for Pete's sake. They empty that at five o'clock every evening."

"There's just an off chance that he put it in after hours."

They entered the building and from the flash-light beam they found the light switch.

"It's down here on the first floor," she told him. She led the way and finally stopped in front of a wire basket on a table in the hall. A lock kept the cover clamped down. He flashed the light on the basket.

"I dunno. There are two large envelopes and a couple of letters." He tried to pry the cover open. There was a little play to it.

"Your hand's smaller than mine, Ellen. I'll hold the cover up. See if you can fish these things out."

She put her hand in and after several tries brought out one large envelope out.

"Woman! you know it," she said in disgust. It was addressed to Dean J. E. Lindstrom. "It's probably the other one. Well, here goes." She had a little harder time, but finally managed to pull it out.

"Here!" she exclaimed when she glanced at the name. "This must be his." She opened it. "I'm so anxious to see what's in it."

They walked upstairs. Raff flashing the light about them to make sure no one was lurking in the shadows.

He went into the inner office to make sure no one was there. Then he pulled the big shade in Ellen's office. He switched the light on and they both blinked at the brightness.

"Now let's see what we have here."

He opened the thick envelope and skimmed the contents onto her desk. A small sealed envelope fell out first. It was perfectly flat except for one corner which bulged considerably. He tore this open and emptied it into his hand. The water-soaked stub of a cigarette rolled out.

"Am I who does this mean?" he asked Ellen. He turned the butt around in his hand. There were some Egyptian letters impressed in gold near the edge.

Ellen looked at it, completely baffled. "That's one of those awful cigarettes Dr. Hubbard used to smoke," she volunteered.

OBTUARIES

ELETHA CHARLOTTE RICH
Mrs. Eletha Charlotte Rich, 109 North Clark street, Olean, N. Y., widow of the Rev. John R. Rich, died at 9 p. m. Monday in the Keystone Nursing Home here.

She was born September 28, 1870, at Grove City, and went to Olean six years ago following a residence of about ten years in Warren. She was a member of Trinity Methodist church in Olean and active in church affairs as long as her health permitted. Rev. and Mrs. Rich served Methodist charges of the Erie Conference for 32 years prior to his death.

Surviving her are the following children: Mrs. G. Aten Smith, Olean, N. Y.; Mrs. Linson H. Stebbins, Gallipolis, O.; Mrs. Ralph D. Thomas, Miami, Fla.; also four grandchildren.

Removal has been made to the Peterson Funeral Home, where friends will be received at the usual calling hours starting this evening. Services in her memory will be held from the funeral home at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday, conducted by Rev. Harold Knappenberger, pastor of Grace Methodist church, and B. J. DeLoe, of Olean.

Removal will be made Thursday morning to Sandy Lake cemetery where a graveside service will be held at 10:30 a. m.

MRS. GERTRUDE ENSWORTH
Services in memory of Mrs. Gertrude Ensworth, of Tempe, Ariz., were held at 2 p. m. Monday at the Lutz Funeral Home, conducted by the Rev. Wayne Furman, pastor of First Methodist church. Bearers for interment in the family plot in Oakland cemetery were Norman and Donald Hueck, Donald and Allen Knappe, Clifton DeLoe and Byron Knapp.

Attending the rites from away were Mr. and Mrs. Alvah S. Oakley, of Tempe; Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Fix, Ruth, Marilyn and Sandra Elaine Fix, Buffalo, N. Y.; Mrs. Leon H. Ensworth, Philadelphia; Eugene Wheeler, Phila.; Mrs. Robert Wickham and Robert Wheeler, Erie; Robert Oakley, Idaroma, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hucksmeister, Briarcliff Manor, N. Y.

MRS. ANNA E. MILES
Services were held at the Peterson Funeral Home at 2 p. m. Monday for Mrs. Anna E. Miles, 4 Maple street. The Rev. Milton C. Perry, pastor of First Baptist church, officiated and the following services were held: Burial in Pine Grove cemetery at Russell; Stuart F. Custer, Hans Walchli, Dr. J. D. Shortt, Milton Danielson, Robert Endress and Samuel Chesnutt.

Present from away were Mr. and Mrs. George Tugwell, Fredonia, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. George Bilety, Jamestown, N. Y.; Mrs. Dora Johnson, Youngville, and L. O. Bouquin, Oil City.

MARTIN C. GAGE
Very largely attended rites were held in the Russell Methodist church at 11 a. m. Monday for Martin C. Gage, of Akeley, lifelong and highly respected resident of that community. The service was conducted by Rev. Palmer Taylor and Rev. A. J. Vrooman, with the following serving as bearers for interment in Pine Grove cemetery: Archie Pasco, Jefferson Sears, Ted Smith, Guy Sumner, David and John Van Orsdale.

Jaycees Planning Ticket Sale For Next Music Series
Persons who hold membership tickets in the Junior Chamber of Commerce Music Series will be given preference when next season's campaign opens Monday, April 18.

This was revealed last evening when the Jaycees Music committee met with a group of civic minded Warrentites who this year as well as last will help sell the season memberships.

The final concert this year will be given Thursday evening in the Woman's Club auditorium, where the Gold and Robert F. Zidale will present a program of two piano music. Thursday's concert will start at 8:45 in order that persons attending church services may have more time to get to the auditorium.

Fred Thompson, Jaycees music chairman, announced last night that next year's season memberships may be purchased at the Woman's Club Thursday evening by this year's ticketholders and the committee hopes many will take advantage of this opportunity.

Next week when the campaign officially opens, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be reserved for this year's members and only they can buy. If there are any seats left Wednesday night, the sale will be thrown open to the public for the remainder of the week until the seating capacity is sold out.

The music committee this year will not sell patron tickets but instead has raised the price of the season tickets to $10.00. The adult season tickets next season will remain the same, six dollars, tax included, while students not yet out of high school will pay five dollars, tax included.

These memberships will entitle the holder to at least three fine concerts next winter and, if the house is again sold out, fourth will be added as was the case this season.

CLYDE H. GROSSENBERG
Clyde Harold Grossenberg died at his home in Clarendon Heights this morning at 12:40 o'clock. He was aged 65 years.

Mr. Grossenberg was born at Stoneham and had lived in this district all his life, working in the oil fields.

He leaves his wife, Adella Flisk Grossenberg, three daughters, Mrs. Mable Wilbur of Pleasant township, Mrs. Alta Jones of Clarendon Heights, and Mrs. Betty Graham of Warren; one sister, Mrs. Alta Rich of Alma, Mich.; and 12 grandchildren.

Friends may pay their respects at the Peterson funeral home after 10 a. m. tomorrow. Services will be held at the funeral home Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, with the Rev. C. C. Van of Clarendon officiating.

Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

TERRY LEE WALLACE
Terry Lee Wallace, six months old son of Samuel and Virginia Moore Wallace, of Kinzua, died shortly before noon today in Warren General Hospital. He had been since last Thursday and was admitted to the hospital last night.

Besides his parents, he leaves two sisters and one brother, Sarah Elizabeth, Rose Anne and Robert Lloyd; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Moore, Knapp Creek, N. Y.; and his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace, Kinzua.

Friends will be received at the Lutz Funeral Home on Wednesday evening and services in the child's memory will be held from the Kinzua Methodist church at a time to be announced later.

IN MEMORY
In memory of our dear husband and father, Mr. J. C. Dickey, who passed on a year ago, Apr. 12, 1948. Somewhere back of the sunset Mid the blue and gold of the skies, He lives in the land of glory Where loveliness never dies. We who have known and loved him And whose passing brought sadness and tears, Will cherish his memory forever To brighten the drifting years. Sadly missed by Lovina, John, Rue E. and Ruth E. Dickey. 4-12-12

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of my dear father, John C. Dickey, who passed away 1 year ago today, April 12th. A thought of sweet remembrance Just a memory fond and true, Just a token of affection, Just a heartache still for you; Just a sigh of olden memories, Just a smile of love anew, Just a tear in silence falling And a yearning just for you. Miss you so much. Your only daughter, Ruth E. Dolphin. 4-12-12

Military Rites For Youngville Man

Services in memory of T/Sgt. Clarence Conklin, of Youngville, were held at the Young Funeral Home at that place at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, conducted by the Rev. Baker, pastor of Wesleyan Methodist church at Pittsfield.

Haigren-Wilcox Post, No. 658, American Legion, of Youngville, was in charge of military rites at the graveside in Youngville cemetery, with Raymond Barton, post commander, and Clair Schnell, chaplain, in charge of the ritual.

Bearers were former fellow-company members: Arthur DeVore, Wilbur Shannon and Samuel Boyce, Youngville; Bernard Tellman, LeRoy Fronberg and Merle Jackson, Warren.

Cleon Wood commanded the firing squad composed of C. Borton, Kenneth Retterer, Ronald Wood, W. V. Johnson, Harold Peterson and George Young. Robert Hutley was bugler for "Taps."

Among those in attendance was a large group of uniformed ex-service men from Pittsfield, former home of the deceased.

Report Of A Kidnaping On Coast Is Probed

Anderson said he considered that Goodman, "by the publicity," hoped to convince his debtors that he couldn't meet their demands because he had been forced to pay out a large sum of money.

"If this were a case of kidnaping," the chief declared, "there would be no money returned."

The chief identified Goodman, 40, as a "known gambler," and said he is an ex-prizefighter from Norfolk, Va.

He said Goodman was arrested in November, 1945, on suspicion of robbery at a Los Angeles gambling house. Twelve others arrested at the same time, Anderson said, included Mickey Cohen, Harry Rothman and Paulie Gibson. Rothman was assassinated last fall in Cohen's haberdashery shop. Gibbons earlier was slain gangland style.

The chief said he had quizzed Goodman for several hours and "he hecged on every point of the story."

Anderson said he believed Goodman's wife, Mary, a Sunset Boulevard dress shop owner, had acted in good faith when she obtained the $35,000 from her bank account and a safety deposit box yesterday without her husband's knowledge. The boy is a military academy student.

The chief said the boy reported he had seen his abductor in the Goodman home "with papa one night. But he was wearing dark glasses today" (during the kidnaping.)

Market Quotations

New York, April 12—(AP)—The stock market walked a straight and narrow path again today. Changes were mostly inconsequential with a few more losses than gains. Numerous issues remained at Monday's closing levels. Business proceeded at a crawling pace. One or two substantial blocks of stock changed hands but run-of-the-mill trading was a dawdling affair. Liggett and Myers provided a little action with transfer of 2,500 shares at 77 1/2, a net decline of 3/4. Later, said was made down more than 4 to a new low for the year.

Grass Fires Keep Department On Run

Warren firemen were kept on the jump today by three grass fires.

Most serious of the blazes occurred at Lexington avenue and Parker street where a grass fire ignited a small oil tank. The firemen used their fog nozzle equipment to smother the flames.

The firefighters also were called to the south side for a grass fire at St. Clair and Tuscorara streets, and to Washington Park where they joined a State Department of Forests and Water fire fighting crew in extinguishing a big brush fire.

DIPHTHERIA EPIDEMIC IN BETHLEHEM AREA

Bethlehem, April 12—(AP)—All schools in Fountain Hill, a Bethlehem suburb, were closed today because of an outbreak of diphtheria.

Fourteen cases of the disease were reported in the Bethlehem area recently, seven in St. Luke's Hospital, Fountain Hill. Two deaths resulted, one in Salisbury township, adjoining Fountain Hill, and one in nearby Hellertown.

Health authorities in Bethlehem said they have the situation "in hand" and that the city's schools will operate until Thursday when they close for the Easter holiday.

Dr. F. J. Conahan, city health physician, said about 5,000 persons, including many children, were inoculated against diphtheria last week.

At least 14,000 school pupils will be inoculated to prevent spread of the disease.

his grave," Fries said.

After killing the youth with a hatchet, Fries said, he was startled by some people in the neighborhood. So he hid the body in some bushes instead of burying it as planned.

Fries said he picked up the liver and a piece of the thigh from the hacked body and hid them in his rucksack.

When he arrived home, he said, I told my wife I had bought some pork and liver. We had it for supper the same day.

"I had to eat it so as not to make my wife and others suspicious," he said.

Asked by the court whether he thought of his own seven-year-old son when he ate the flesh, Fries replied "no."

Fries' wife was divorced from him last Saturday. She was not in court.

SENTENCED FOR ATTACKS

Pittsburgh, April 12—(AP)—Ralph Thompson, 48, today began a 15 to 20 year term in prison for criminal attacks on two women six years ago. Thompson, identified by both women as the attacker, was returned recently from Vancouver, B. C., by the FBI. Judge Elmyr H. O'Brien, in passing sentence, said: "I'm sorry I can't give him more."

Joe Massa Mauls Maples For 676 In City League

Joe Massa, basketball coach for Warren high school, demonstrated last night that he can lob a tenpin ball at a set of maples with the same skill and proficiency that he shows in dropping a leather sphere through an iron ring.

Joe, toiling the line for Glendora Coffee, mauled the maples for a thumping 676 total on linescores of 219, 223 and 234. But his team mates let him down hard as they dropped three of the four match points to Building Block Works.

Six other 600 series, which included two games over the 250 stick mark, also highlighted last night's firing in the Class A Men's City loop.

Harry Wooster of the Building Blocks team, warmed up with games of 191 and 190 and then cut loose with a 257 for a 638 aggregate. Frank Willard, of Dyke's Dairy, also fought an uphill battle for a 149-192-205-509 series.

Others over the three-game 600 mark were: Merle Sterling with 186-234-190-610 for Stroehmans; Nummy Wooster with 191-236-175-602 for Butter Krust; and John Pierce with 192-216-193-601 for Texas Lunch; and Glen Grosch with 173-211-224-608 for Building Blocks.

Incidentally, Stroehmans gained undisputed possession of the league lead by topping Butter Krust, 3-1. These two clubs were deadlocked for the top position on the league ladder last week.

In the Ladies City League, Brown's Boot Shop leap-frogged ahead of Struthers-Wells for the league lead. They accomplished this feat by whitewashing Valone's Shoes, while the Struthers squad was taking a four point shellacking at the hands of Walker's Creamery.

Best individual performers for the evening were Rose Juliano with 200-188-163-557 for Ann's Beauty Salon; Jake Harvey with 169-198-177-544 for Brown's Boots; and Millie Burman with 181-170-189-540 for Fritz Co.

Brown's, paced by Kleehauer with 514, topped the Allens, 3-1, in a Conewango Club tenpin league tilt last night. Scoring: Browns 747 914 852-2513 Allens 877 742 742-2361

Hot Stove League Leaders Meet Tonite

Reports on the sale of sponsoring memberships for the Hot Stove Baseball League will be heard tonight at a meeting of the adult leaders of the league this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Control Room of the Warren Municipal Building.

The meeting will be open to all those who have purchased the adult membership cards, and any other sports-minded person in the area interested in organizing a live-wire baseball program in the Warren district.

A start also is expected to be made in actual organizing of the teams by wards and districts for both the midge and intermediate leagues.

Any person or organization interested in making a contribution to help purchase needed baseball equipment for the teams may mail a check to the league president, Charles Munsante, in care of the Police Department, Warren Municipal Building. Checks should be made out to the Warren Chapter, Hot Stove League.

CAMP BRIEFS

Atlanta, Ga., April 12—(AP)—Comme Mack, 36-year-old manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, is one diamond strategist who is not losing any sleep over his opening pitching selections. Mack announced yesterday that Dick Fowler, veteran righthander, will handle the mound chores against the Washington Senators at the nation's capital on April 18. Lou Brissie, southpaw sophomore, will be on the hill when the A's open their home season the next day against the Boston Red Sox.

Birmingham, Ala., April 12—(AP)—Billy Meyer, Pittsburgh Pirate skipper, is still undecided about his regular first baseman but is leaning toward Eddie Stevens, who held the post last season. Les Fleming, former Cleveland Indian, is giving Stevens a fight for the job but hasn't been fielding as well as Stevens. Both are hitting a shade better than .300.

Louisville, Ky., April 12—(AP)—Schoolboy Rowe isn't ready to quit baseball just yet. The Philadelphia Phillies pitcher revealed yesterday he had turned down an offer of $14,500 a year to act as a goodwill ambassador for an automotive concern and would remain in baseball—at least another year. The Phils came here today for a two-game series with the Cincinnati Reds.

Cardinals' Pitcher Bill Reeder Tossed Strikes on Okinawa Too

BY HARRY GRAYSON, NEA Sports Editor

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(NEA)—Towering Bill Reeder is the Cardinals' principal hope to fill the void in the pitching staff left by the sale of Murry Dickson to the Pirates.

"He has a rubber arm, is fast enough, and tied Jack Banta of the Dodgers for the most games won in the International League last season, 19," said Eddie Dyer.

"But he'll never have a day like the one he had for all of us on Okinawa," said a baseball writer who was a war correspondent. "That one made him the talk of the island."

The war correspondent recalled that it was shortly after Easter Sunday, 1945, when counter-attacking Japs were playing havoc with Capt. George Wilcox' company of the 96th Infantry Division. They were doing it with knee mortars, so called because they can be fired from the knee.

"And they could practically drop 'em into your hip pocket," said T/Sgt. William Reeder.

"We couldn't reach them with our mortars," he explained, almost apologetically. "They could see our shells coming over the ridge they were trying to recapture, and they'd duck back into caves. Then, as quickly as our fire was lifted, they'd pepper us again."

THINGS became desperate. The knee mortar is a casualty weapon with point detonation, comparable to the hand grenade. Nearly everybody in Captain Wilcox' company was wounded.

The hand grenade was the obvious answer, but how to get a man close enough, and who could throw them—overhand and stiff-armed—far enough after getting there?

Captain Wilcox thought of the big sergeant who had pitched in the Texas League. He was no ordinary man. Hadn't he thrown hand grenades 100 yards in practice? It was the only way out, the one chance.

Sergeant Reeder low-bridged and crawled until he stumbled into what had been a Japanese machine gun nest from 60 to 80 yards from the caves covering the Nips with the knee mortars.

The Japanese quickly discovered that there had been some changes made, but Sergeant Reeder stuck in there, and pulled pins and hurled 150 hand grenades, or two boxes.

All seven knee mortars were knocked out of the box. "Weren't you afraid of hurting your arm?" asked someone.

"I wasn't thinking about that at the moment," drawled six-foot five-inch, 196-pound, 27-year-old Pitcher Reeder of Sulphur Springs, Tex. "Besides, I'd rather be here with a dead arm and a live body."

Fortunately, Reeder, the tallest of the Red Birds, makes his major league bow with an arm to match his live body.

A. P. Writer Picks Boston Over Indians

By JACK HAND
Orangeburg, S. C., April 12—(AP)—It looks from here like the Boston Red Sox over the Cleveland Indians in a two-club race for the American League pennant.

New York and possibly Philadelphia have a look-in on the big prize but the Red Sox and Indians carry the heavy guns. Detroit needs plenty of bats to figure in the race and St. Louis, Washington and Chicago are in over their heads.

The Oct. 2 finish (not guaranteed):

1. Boston.
2. Cleveland.
3. New York.
4. Philadelphia.
5. Detroit.
6. St. Louis.
7. Washington.
8. Chicago.

A year ago most American League owners feared a Boston runaway and hoped the Yanks could make it a race. Cleveland, with all its veterans having their best years, upset the apple cart.

Now the Yanks, with Joe DiMaggio still the big question mark, are an uncertain factor. Boston and Cleveland are the teams to beat.

If the Red Sox get consistent pitching they have the power to break the race wide open. The big bats of Ted Williams, Vern Stephens and Bobby Doerr pack a tremendous wallop.

Joe McCarthy, starting his second year as Sox manager, figures to get more pitching help from Tex Hughson and Mickey Harris, who were of little value last season.

Jock Kramer, Joe Dobson and Mel Parnell form the nucleus of a pretty fair staff. Hughson can make all the difference if he pitches up to his spring form.

Cleveland should get much better pitching than the Sox from Bob Feller, Gene Bearden, Bob Lemon and Steve Gromek. Manager Lou Boudreau, the "player of the year" in 1948, fields the best infield in baseball unless Veterans Ken Keltner and Joe Gordon should slip.

Looks Like a Big Season For Westlake

Birmingham, Ala., April 12—(AP)—Wally Westlake, husky outfielder who was snuffing the trade winds with apprehension a year ago, may provide the answer to the Pittsburgh Pirates' pennant hopes.

Westlake has been hitting the Grapefruit League pitchers as if he owned them and he's always been a dependable man in the outfield. Manager Billy Meyer says "This is Westlake's year" and if the sophomore Buc manager is correct it could easily be "The Pirates' Year."

In 69 trips, Westlake has compiled a .406 batting average. That's second only to Catcher Eddie Fitzgerald who has hit .435 in 24 appearances.

Meyer, of course, doesn't expect Westlake to continue his torrid pace. The Buc skipper will be well satisfied if Westlake hits .30 or better. Something he's failed to accomplish in his two seasons with the Bucs.

From that moment Westlake showed improvement. He played in 132 games and brought his batting average up to .285. That was 12 points better than in his first season with the Pirates, but far below the .315 he compiled for Oakland of the Pacific Coast League

War Memorial Field Closed Temporarily

The War Memorial Board today asked all boys and girls who have been playing on War Memorial Field in Lexington avenue to stay off the field for the next few weeks.

Board members said the area has been closed for play until the new grass seeding has had a chance to take root. The seeding will provide a good turf next fall for the football season.

Board members also said that work is continuing on the baseball diamond at the Lexington avenue play spot, and that the diamond probably will be ready for use about the latter part of May.

The cooperation of all boys and girls and their parents in keeping off the field while the seeding is under way is requested.

John Salamon Tops Tenpin Avg. Roster

John Salamon, anchor for the Warren Water team, was the high average bowler for the second-half campaign of the X-Servicemen's League, which operated Monday nights at the Arcade alleys.

Johnny topped the sticks at a 177-per-game clip for 42 games. His nearest competitors were Johnny Pierce of Hanna Motor Sales with 172; Homer Fitch of the V.F.W. with 171; E. Sedan of Mountain Top Beverages with 170; and E. Stewart of the V.F.W., also with 170.

The individual averages, listed by teams, were:

Support For Cancer Fund Duff Appeal

Governor James H. Duff has designated April as Cancer Control Month, and asked Commonwealth residents to support the program being conducted by the Pennsylvania Division of the American Cancer Society.

Funds received during the society's financial campaign this month will be used to expand its three-fold cancer control program of research, service and education. Governor Duff's statement follows:

"The American Cancer Society, during the entire month of April, is focusing the nation's attention upon one of the major killers of mankind. Though much has been done to combat this dread disease, much still remains to be accomplished.

"Despite the mounting cancer deaths we have every reason to be optimistic. During the last four years the American Cancer Society has organized a large group of scientists to devote full time to the problem of conquering this disease. Already some of their findings are being felt in the treatment of cancer.

"These scientists include many of those who split the atom, and reduced mortality from infectious diseases through the development of antibiotics, or drugs such as penicillin. We have every reason to be confident that they will accomplish themselves well on their new mission.

"The society has advised that the estimated cancer mortality of 190,000 Americans for 1948 was too low. Revised figures indicate that it actually amounted to 195,000. This included some 15,000 Pennsylvanians. Part of this rise was due to better diagnostic techniques and more accurate reporting of cancer deaths, also to an aging population and part to a wartime rise in the birthrate which was calculated in original estimates, and large postwar immigration of people, which was not estimated.

"But most of it was due to increase in the incidence which offset some substantial gains made by medical science in curing cancer.

"I should like, therefore, to call your personal attention to a fund drive now being conducted throughout the Commonwealth by the Pennsylvania Division of the American Cancer Society in an effort to continue and expand this over-all program."

ASPHALT LAKE

From the famous pitch lake of Trinidad, off the coast of Venezuela, millions of tons of asphalt have been taken, yet no impression appears to have been made on the contents. Pressure from below forces new supplies of pitch to the surface to form the seemingly inexhaustible reservoir.

TWINING PLANTS

Almost all twinning plants twist from left to right, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica. One exception is the butternut tree, which twines from right to left.

Ugly Burglar's New Face May Bring Him a Brighter Life

By NEA Service

CLEVELAND — (NEA)—Police arrested a man caught red-handed in a petty robbery a year ago. He was carrying a gun dispensing machine away from a small confectionery store.

In court, the man told a strange story. He said he'd been driven to crime because people shunned him. They shunned him, he said, because he was so ugly.

Judge Frank Merrick and the court psychiatrists, Drs. Wilfred Gill and Royal Grossman, looked at the man with curiosity. What they saw convinced him he was telling the truth.

John Glefke was not a handsome man.

So began the story of his transformation from the "Ugly Burglar" to a normal-looking man with a steady job and a chance for a normal future.

In the past eight months, Glefke has had $3000 worth of plastic and oral surgery performed on his face. The cost to him was $35. The work was done free by plastic surgeon Dr. Frank L. Meany and oral surgeon Dr. A. C. McGannon. St. John's Hospital took care of the hospital bills. All Glefke had to pay was $35 for material for dentures.

Since he was a child, John Glefke had known he was ugly. Childhood never played with him. Even in high school he was avoided. Since he was 17, he'd dreamed of a plastic surgery job, hoping that way he'd have friends.

"I thought I could get a better job and meet some nice girls," he explained.

In 1940, when he was 23, he broke into a school, stole a typewriter, and was promptly caught. He was sent to Ohio Reformatory.

But, even there, the prisoners would have nothing to do with him. So he walked away from the Honor Farm and headed for a different part of the country. He went to Missouri, but it didn't help.

In another of his petty thefts, he broke into a peanut machine in Greene County, Mo., and again he was caught immediately. He served more time.

In 1945, Glefke, now 28, was drafted. But it was the same story.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

New York—Absence of customers makes the businessman's heart grow fonder. And this spring he's coming up with all kinds of plans for reunion with the source of his income.

Through most industries today runs the same quickening pulse of desire, usually called sales promotion.

The steel mills are making price concessions—either dropping premiums and extras, or in some cases returning to the old sales policy of paying the freight.

Auto makers have both price cuts and sales drives under way.

His fat nose, wide nostrils, thick lips and protruding ears combined to make him so ugly that GIs wouldn't associate with him.

He tried to drown himself. The Army discharged him.

Back in Cleveland, it was the same monotonous tale. It ended with the gum machine theft and his trip to court, where he finally got the whole story of his lonely life off his chest.

Glefke entered St. John's Hospital last August. Since then he has been hospitalized two other times, and has made many other trips to the doctors' offices. It will be a year before all work is finished.

Dr. Meany built a bridge for his nose and is now working to narrow his flaring nostrils. His lips were thinned by a third operation. All his teeth were removed and dentures made.

He is now working as a laborer, at $38 a week. He is going to night school, hoping for a better job in time to come.

"His attitude is about the best of all my probationers," says the probation officer he reports to every Friday. "He is a changed man. It is almost unbelievable."

And, at 32, John Glefke finds life is no longer unbearably lonely. People, who once shunned him because of his ugliness, are helping him now.

Coal men both anthracite and bituminous, are returning to the old seasonal pattern of cutting prices in the spring to make it attractive for users to stock up ahead of time for the fall.

The packaging industry is working on new designs aimed at making the goods sell themselves. It is part of the self-service plan many stores are developing in an attempt to cut labor costs. "Window-box" packages and those combining several related products are being used increasingly.

Clearance sales, which started at Christmas time in men's and women's apparel, are spreading to other fields. Some carpet mills have cut prices. Retail sales have been lagging and less popular carpets piling up in storerooms. The carpet industry has renewed its publicity drive to make housewives dissatisfied with their present floor coverings and to get them back into the stores on a spree of freshening up the home for spring.

The airlines are watching the spread of the air coach idea, offering cheaper rates without service frills. Long financially ailing, the airlines are being hauled before a Congressional committee. The congressmen want to know why air carriers operated in the red and needed almost every one else in the business world was prospering. Airline executives have a number of answers, including their own over-optimism in the days right after the war when they expanded too rapidly. Now they are trying to pull themselves out of the slump by bringing in a new type of passenger from the lower income brackets.

MEXICO WAS FIRST

The first North American wheat crop was harvested in Mexico in 1530, from grain planted by a servant of Cortez, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Coccolalla Valley, northern Idaho, is only one mile wide and has a solid rock floor.
